

MRS. ROSE STOKES IN "RED" PARTY U. S. AGENTS SEEK

Two Other Women Radicals
Fled With Foster and Others
Before Michigan Raid.

BRIDGEMAN, Mich., Aug. 23.—Three prominent women radicals, including Mrs. Rose Stokes and Ella Reeves Boor, accompanied William Z. Foster, radical agitator, Boris Reinstein and Arnold Lowowsky on their flight from here yesterday prior to the raid on a Communist Party convention which netted 17 radicals. Federal authorities declared to-day the third woman's identity is not known.

Evidence to convict hundreds of Communists throughout the United States is in the hands of authorities, it was said.

Federal agents combed papers seized in the raids belonging to the Communist Party. The papers were discovered buried in one of the holes surrounding the "Walden" resort where the convention was held.

Lists of all Communists in the country and evidence to convict every one on the lists is in the hands of the authorities, it was declared.

"We can arrest these men at any time now and be sure of convicting them," E. C. Shanahan, Federal agent declared. "Some of these reds on the list have been shadowed before yesterday but we have been unable to get anything on them."

The hunt for Z. Foster and the other radicals was continued by Federal authorities to-day. The seventeen captives are in jail here and will be tried for alleged violation of the Michigan Syndicalism Law.

Foster, leader of the 1919 steel strike and considered as one of the most intellectual radicals in the United States, fled in a taxi according to the Federal authorities.

Federal authorities, aided by Michigan guardsmen in this search, had one report that Foster, Boris Reinstein and Arnold Lowowsky, the last two said to be the representatives of Soviet Russia, were headed toward Chicago.

"We have the names of some of the most dangerous radicals in the Communist organization," said E. C. Shanahan, of the Chicago Department of Justice agents. "This is one of the most serious blows to the Reds in the history of the country." Shanahan stated that thus far he was unable to connect the radicals with any participation in recent disorders in connection with the railroad strike.

The "Red" headquarters was in a shack that had rented from Karl Wooskeel, a mile and a half from here on the banks of Lake Michigan. The convention had evidently been "tipped off" as Foster and about sixty others were reported to have fled Saturday and Sunday. Only fifteen were in the shack at the time of the raid. Two others were captured in the woods.

Radical literature and clippings from the foreign press was unearthed. Mrs. Wooskeel, who said the party owed her $500, turned over to the raiders seven typewriters, two mimeograph machines and a quantity of stationery.

Deportation proceedings are to be instituted against Norman H. Valentine, representative of the English Communists, who was arrested. Others who are in jail include Eugene Hechold, Chicago, and William F. Dunne, editor of a labor newspaper.

SIX MORE "RED" ARRESTS MADE BY UNITED STATES AGENTS.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23 (Associated Press).—Six additional arrests have been made by Federal agents in the wake of the raid yesterday on a meeting in the woods near Bridgeman, Mich. It was learned to-day, Federal investigators are attempting to establish a connection between the meeting at Bridgeman and meetings of the Trade Union Educational League, of which W. Z. Foster, leader of the 1919 steel strike, is the head, and the Workers' Party of America, scheduled to be held Aug. 27 and 28 in Chicago.

Proud Father Announces Birth Of Son, Then Learns It Was a Girl

Edward Rich of Jersey City became a father Aug. 12. He supposed for a week the child was a boy, then learned it was a girl. So he has retained Charles Simpson to begin action against the Bergen Sanitarium of Jersey City, where the baby was born.

Mr. Rich said to-day that his wife informed him that several hours after the child was born Dr. David Russell, physician in charge at the sanitarium, in the presence of a nurse, said: "It's a boy. Wake up; don't you want to see him?"

Mr. Rich says Aug. 18 a nurse, who replaced the one at the birth, disclosed to the surprise of Mrs. Rich that the child nursed by her was a girl.

TRY OBSTRUCTION TO BLOCK INQUIRY ON MARKET GRAFT

All Called Before King's County Grand Jury Refuse to Sign Waiver.

Obstructionist tactics designed to hinder the Kings County Grand Jury in its investigation into alleged misconduct of officials of the Department of Markets have made themselves felt since the opening of the inquiry, it was alleged to-day by persons in charge of its prosecution.

Refusal of every witness who has been called to date to sign a waiver of immunity has been chief obstacle. Some of them have admitted that they did so on advice of the Corporation Counsel's office. Edwin J. O'Malley, Commissioner of Markets, made this admission, as also did H. Warren Hubbard, First Deputy Commissioner; Mrs. Blanche Walzmuller, Special Deputy Commissioner; Anselmus Mulvey, Superintendent of Markets, and Alderman James J. Morris, who prior to his election, was a market supervisor in East New York.

Morris was on the stand yesterday, and it was intimated that damaging testimony was adduced as the result. Just what this testimony was could not be learned, but it was known that the Alderman was questioned about fees he collected from pushcart peddlers while he was a market supervisor.

First Deputy Commissioner Hubbard was recalled to the stand this morning for about forty-five minutes. He brought with him certain papers and records about which he had testified yesterday, when he occupied the stand fifteen minutes.

Mrs. Walzmuller also was recalled to the stand to-day. Yesterday she testified about certain records she had received and she was instructed to bring these records with her to-day. She complied.

TARDY ATTORNEYS FINED BY JUDGE IN MAIL THEFT TRIAL

Both Late, One is Assessed
$10 and the Other $25
by Court.

Both attorneys for the two defendants in the mail robbery trial before Federal Judge Holmes were fined for appearing late in court this morning. William Baker, counsel for George Anderson, was fined $10 for being ten minutes late.

Twenty minutes after Judge Holmes had opened court Frederick J. Groehl, counsel for Gerald Chapman, made his appearance. The court fined him $15 and asked what excuse he had to offer for his tardiness.

"Oh, I had some other matters to attend to," said the attorney.

"Well, in that case," declared Judge Holmes, "I'll make your fine $25."

With the reprimanding of counsel over, Attorney Baker started summing up. Both lawyers have been allowed forty-five minutes for their summation. The case will go to the jury this afternoon.

The Girls Are Wearing 'Em Longer In Hawaii; Dimpled Knees Secret

Anklets Have Spread Out Too, but There's Joyous Jazz
in the Hula Hula.

The old melody about "wearin' 'em higher in Hawaii" has been revised, for flappers and hula-hula dancers of the Pacific Isle have felt the reforming influence of the Rue de la Paix and are no longer bobbing their grass dresses.

This is the news brought by Mijon Harracka, Armenian lecturer who arrived at Hoboken this morning from Manila, via Brazil, which, to say the least, is a trifle roundabout. Mr. Harracka, who is here to inform America of the deplorable condition of his countrymen, was landed at Hoboken by a small motor boat after having been taken off a tramp steamship at Quarantine.

And the growing of the grass is not the only dress reform on the island, according to Mr. Harracka. Anklets, which heretofore were mere narrow adornments, now are at least two inches wider, he says. The result is that when a fashionable young lady is in repose only about three or four inches of her—er—limb is open to public gaze. Dimpled knees, or any other kind, for that matter, now are a hidden secret, just as the ears of a properly coiffured young American girl were a short time ago.

News of a new dance which is all the rage also was brought by the lecturer. This new step is a revision of the hula-hula, with the girls wearing variously toned bells on their ankles, and they dance in a manner to produce a jazzy tune. Mr. Harracka described this by saying he was unable to keep his feet still when he saw the dance.

The lecturer will remain in New York for a short time and then will go to Washington.

MINERS WAGES DOUBLED ALMOST IN WEST VIRGINIA

Action Forced by Union Settlement in Cleveland.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Wages of miners in the non-union fields of West Virginia have been boosted from $4.68 to $7.18 per day, the Federal Fuel Distribution Committee was advised to-day. Non-union operators were forced to this action of almost doubling their wage scale to continue operation, in view of the settlement of the union strike through the Cleveland agreement, it was said.

The New River fields already have agreed to this scale, while the Winding Gulf operators are preparing to sign up, the committee has been informed. The matter is up for consideration in all fields.

Rescues Miss Reed.

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., Aug. 23.—Lawrence Shea, a swimming instructor on the beach of the new Ocean House, plunged into the breakers yesterday and rescued Miss Mary W. Reed of New York City, who had sunk while trying to swim to a diving raft.

Shea, who was recovering from injuries received recently in effecting another rescue, was seated on the beach fully clothed when bathers on the raft called for help. He had brought Miss Reed nearly to shore when assistance reached him.

School-Outfitting for the JUNIOR MISS

IT is a fashion in itself—the Junior fashion; as distinct from children's clothes as it is from misses' and young women's; charmingly youthful, but with no hint of childishness; wholly smart, but with no hint of sophistication; modish enough to please any daughter, girlish enough to please the mothers of daughters—a type that is necessarily the achievement of a specialist.

For forty three years we have been developing a specialized knowledge of this specialized need. We have helped thousands of mothers in the sometimes difficult, —always important task of outfitting their Junior daughters.
